Hi! My name is Keri Turner, and I am so excited to be leading the STEAM class on Thursdays. I have two children – my daughter is an elementary school teacher, and my son is a 15 year old homeschool student. I have been married for 17 years and am a member of Mustang Church of the Nazarene. From an early age, I fell in love with science. After highschool I earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology from a private Christian college where I was fortunate to be supported by professors and peers who fostered my relationship with Jesus. I also attended Mississippi State University for a Master of Science in Geoscience. I did horticulture research with Mississippi State University for a number of years before moving to Oklahoma and switching gears to proteomics research with the University of Oklahoma. I've also been bitten by the travel bug, so people/culture/geography are a favorite passion of mine. I love sharing my enthusiasm for learning and knowledge of our world with children. It is truly a privilege to see their faces light up with understanding and awe. I've taught Sunday school (all ages), discipleship classes, and more classes at homeschool co-ops than I can count. I am looking forward to facilitating your children on a journey to learn more about how God's magnificent creation works!
